Sunday is the default day of change, but operators have the flexibility to register service changes for the Saturday before or the Monday after the Sunday dates given above.

The dates which relate to school term start dates are based on the default Hertfordshire schools calendar. We accept that some operators may need more flexibility to time service changes with term dates of neighbouring areas which may be different. However any significant increase in the number of dates of service changes should be avoided in order not to undermine to the aim of this scheme variation.

Following feedback from operators regarding the dates we implemented for 2022, for next year we have avoided dates at the beginning of a school half term holiday.
